9. Acquisition of Shares from Shareholders and reduction rules

A Shareholder may submit a Sale Offer for a number of shares higher than the number of Shares that will be the subject of purchase under this Invitation, in particular, a Shareholder may submit a Sale Offer for all the shares of the Company he or she is entitled to.

In the case of Sale Offers accepted by the Company, when the total number of Shares covered by the Sale Offers accepted by the Company is equal to or less than the number of Purchased Shares that the Company ultimately intends to acquire, the Company will acquire all Shares covered by the accepted Sale Offers.

The Sale Offers of the Shareholders who declared to sell the shares at or below the Final Purchase Price ultimately decided by the Board will be proportionally reduced.

Fractional numbers of Shares will be rounded down to the nearest whole number so that the total number of Shares finally purchased will be equal to the number of Purchased Shares, while maintaining the principle of equal treatment of all Shareholders.

The Shares remaining after the rounding referred to above (i.e., the Shares in the number representing the difference between the number of Purchased Shares determined by the Company and the total number of Shares covered by the reduced and rounded Sale Offers) will be allocated to the Sale Offers submitted by Shareholders one Share at a time, starting with the largest Sale Offers to the smallest, until the total allocation of Shares is equal to the number of Purchased Shares. In the case of Sale Offers for the same number of Shares, the Board will allocate the Shares sequentially, starting with the Shareholders who submitted the Sale Offer earlier.

The Sale Offers placed at the price higher than the Final Purchase Price will be fully rejected. The Final Purchase Price will be the same for all Shareholders who declared their interest to sell at that level or below.

The Company will be entitled to accept only Sale Offers submitted in accordance with the terms of the Invitation. In particular, the Company will not accept Sale Offers on an incorrectly completed form or Sale Offers that are not accompanied by the required documents, including a deposit certificate (if the need to present such a certificate is required) confirming the blocking of the Company's Shares and the issuance of an irrevocable instruction to issue a settlement instruction. The transfer of ownership of the Shares from the Shareholders to the Company will be made outside the regulated market (over-the-counter) and settled within the deposit and settlement system of the NDS. Santander is the entity acting as an intermediary in the settlement.

10. Payment of the Purchase Price

Purchase Price of Shares purchased from individual Shareholders, in the number determined in accordance with the principles set out in point 9 above, will be paid by the Company in cash in Polish zlotys. The amount constituting the product of the final number of Shares purchased from individual Shareholders and the Final Purchase Price may be reduced by the commission and other fees due (if such commission or fees are collected by Santander, Custodian Bank or Investment Firm issuing the settlement instruction, in accordance with the fee schedule of such entity).

11. Purpose and justification for the purchase of Shares

Shares under the Invitation are purchased for the purpose of their redemption followed by their cancellation and, therefore, a reduction of the Company's share capital.
